Arlon's WrapItRight Certification is designed to train installers on the best practices of car wrapping. Over our 50+ years in the automotive graphics industry, we've learned that installation expertise is not something that you can just study. Instead, expertise comes from getting hands on experience with a variety of jobs and situations. Our goal is to give you strategies that will work across all critical installation areas. Arlon's WrapItRight Certification combines our technical knowledge of film products with global industry experience.

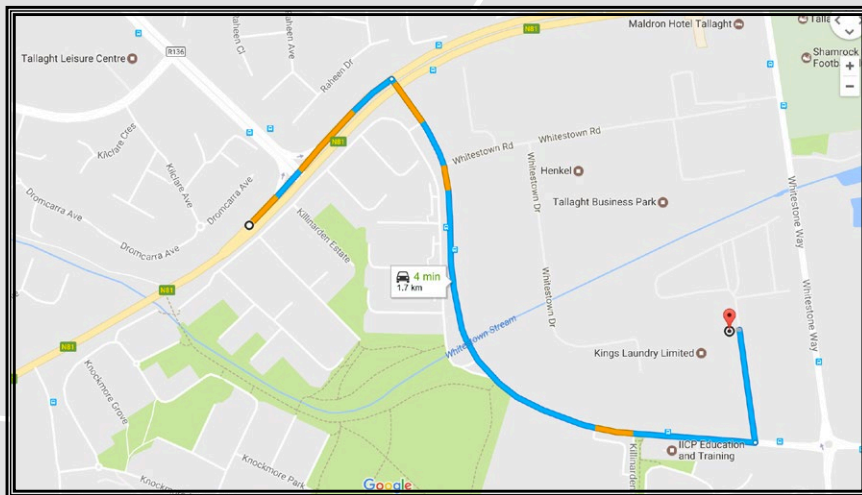

Piotr Cinski is one of the world's most experienced wrap installers, having wrapped over 6000 vehicles.

"I don't believe that a best installer in the world exists, but I always do my best to try to be that one. I am proud to be Arlon's trainer because of the quality of their film and their focus on high level training. The WrapItRight Certification is the toughest in the world, and I am glad to be one of a few chosen to certify with Arlon."
